President's Message

Dear Lace Friends,

Happy Valentine's Day to you all! Here's hoping that the lace spirits are good to you this month...they seem to like the Wedding Garter that I'm making for my niece who's getting married in March...I'm making a few less mistakes than usual.

Although I must say, they DIDN'T like the lace going to work with me (bad light there, many mistakes), so I'm continuing it at only home.
Much better...and the cat stands guard at my shoulder.

This month a few of us will be M.I.L. (Missing In Lacing) since we are going to the Winter Lace Conference in Costa Mesa, which is on the same day as our Meeting.

We have six world-class teachers who also have taught at the IOLI Conference.

(Shameless plug here): the WLC is a great way to get the same teaching as you would get at an international conference, for much less cost and little travel hassle. I hear that the hotel we're meeting at sold out for our rooms. GREAT!

More people have found out about it!

Speaking of the IOLI Conference (July 16-22, Philadelphia), information about it can be found of the website:

internationalorganizationoflace.org. Registrations are being accepted from February 15 th onward. I love going to this one because they always have great teachers in many techniques of lacemaking. I try to pick a lace I've not done or don't know too much about and always have a great time. It always re-inspires me in my lacemaking. (It also inspires me to finish projects because I need the empty pillows to take.) Stay dry and make lots of lace this month!
